The 2026 Travel Careers Playbook

The jobs in demand, the skills that get you hired, and 10 LinkedIn moves to get noticed by travel and tourism recruiters.

01 · WHY TRAVEL, WHY NOW

One of the world's biggest employers is short of people

Travel keeps growing, and employers are struggling to find people with the right skills. That gap is your opening.

376M

jobs supported by Travel and Tourism in 2026, about one in every nine worldwide

WTTC

43M

of the 89M new travel jobs expected by 2035 could be hard to fill for lack of skilled workers

1.52B

international tourist arrivals in 2025, a record

UN Tourism

66%

of recruiters say finding qualified talent got harder in the last year

LinkedIn research

40–44M

projected outbound trips by Indian travellers in 2026, up from 37–39M in 2025. More travellers means more jobs in agencies, airlines, hotels and travel tech.

02 · WHERE THE JOBS ARE

8 travel roles worth targeting

01 Travel advisor

The booking agent has become a consultant who designs complex trips. Listed among LinkedIn's fastest-growing jobs. IATA

02 Corporate travel and MICE sales

Selling business travel, events and group trips to companies. Strong B2B sales skills travel well here.

03 Revenue and pricing

Setting hotel and airline prices using demand data. A natural fit for analytical minds.

04 Travel tech: product, operations, support

The apps and platforms behind every booking need people who understand both travel and software.

05 Digital and performance marketing

Search, social and content for airlines, hotels, agencies and travel startups.

06 Data analyst

Reading booking trends to personalise offers and marketing. IATA

07 Sustainable and experience design

Building low-impact, culturally respectful itineraries. IATA

08 Guest experience and hotel operations

Front office, reservations and guest relations. Often the fastest way into the industry.

03 · SKILLS THAT GET YOU HIRED

Human skills plus digital skills

Customer service still matters most in travel, but employers increasingly want people who can also work with data and AI.

LINKEDIN'S MOST IN-DEMAND SKILLS	RANK
Communication	1
Customer service	2
Project management	4
Management	5
Analytics	6

Cultural sensitivity, sustainability know-how and emotional intelligence for wellness and luxury travel, according to IATA.

04 · GET FOUND ON LINKEDIN

10 LinkedIn moves for travel careers

01 List at least 5 skills
Members who list skills get up to 2x more profile views and 4x more messages.

02 Mix soft and hard skills
People who list both get promoted 8% faster than those listing hard skills only.

03 Write a headline recruiters search
"Travel Consultant | Corporate Travel | Amadeus | Customer Experience" beats "Seeking opportunities".

04 Add a clear, friendly photo
Travel is a people business, and first impressions count.

05 Turn on Open to Work
Set it to recruiters only if you are currently employed.

06 Follow the companies you want to work for
You see their news and openings first, and recruiters notice followers.

07 Set job alerts
Search "travel", "tourism", "hospitality" and "travel tech" for your city.

08 Comment before you apply
A useful comment on a company post puts your name in front of its team.

09 Share one post a month
A trip insight, a trend or a lesson from work builds your profile.

10 Message, don't spam
A short, specific note to someone in the role you want beats 50 generic requests.

05 · WORK AND TRAVEL

Turn work trips into travel

81%

of business travellers have extended an international work trip for leisure

Mastercard Travel Trendline

63%

plan to take several shorter trips in 2026

How to make it work

01 Ask early
Propose leisure days when the trip is planned, not after it is booked.

02 Pay your own extra days
Offer to cover extra nights and any fare difference, and say so upfront.

03 Pick conference cities well
Events in travel hubs make it easy to add a weekend.

04 Network on the road
Message local industry contacts on LinkedIn before you arrive.

Big travel events are career events

Trade shows like WTM London, ITB Berlin and Arabian Travel Market are where travel companies meet, hire and partner. Follow companies attending, and say hello on LinkedIn before the show.
